

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION

5.1 Conclusion

In this chapter, the researcher concludes the result of the research in two paragraph. This research presents result the kinds of figures of speech, the possible meaning, and the contributions of figures of speech in two Elizabeth Barrett Browning's poems.

5.1.1 In this subchapter, the researcher find several figures of speech which contain in the poem. The first poem "How do I love Thee", figures of speech are: hyperbole, personification, assonance, simile and anaphora. Second poem, "If Thou Must Love Me", figures of speech are : alliteration, assonane, metaphor and hyperbole. The researcher describes possible meaning of the poem. The first poem is "How do I love thee", the possible meaning this poem tell about the author feeling how do I love you her husaband. This poem explains life, love, and inspiration. This poem can be describes her condition to give express feel her husband, Robert Browning. She is explains of how much she truly loves her husband. Shealso proves that her love is not fake. The author might said that, she is imperative statement such as evidence to prove that her love is not fake. And she goes on to support her claim with many ways that prove her love. She proves that, she is not trapped by the limits of her body and can love beyond limits. She has feeling of love beyond her scope of view, and beyond what she can see. She compares her love to the Grace of God. She refers back to the idea, she is not trapped by the limit of the human body, and she finish of this though to compare her love to the way God is beauty. And she explains that her entire day is spent with Robert in mind. She loves Robert with intention of freedom such as a men struggle to right. And she loves Robert with pure such as a pray. Second poem is “If thou must love me”, the possible meaning tell about the author want to express feels and desire in love. She want to show about her love to her husband. The author loves is pure and truth but she always hide her feels. She think imagines the lover saying that she have a trick. That is fall like goes well with her husband. And sense comfort in everyday. Also, she want to husband’s love only love her forever and the end of time

5.1.2 in this subchapter, the research describe the contribution of figures of speech are used in this poem. The first poem “how do I love thee”, this poem contains several of figures of speech such as: Personification, Simile, Assonance, Anaphora, and Hyperbole. Each figure has contribution to this poem. Because, they give an exaggeration, comparison, and explicit effect in this poem. So, it makes the poem more beautiful and romantic in meaning. Second poem “if thou must love me”, this poem contains several of figures of speech such as: Alliteration, Assonance, Metaphor, and Hyperbole. Each figure has contribution to this poem. Because, they give an explicit and exaggeration effect in this poem. So, it makes the poem more romantic, vivid, and beautiful meaning.