

CHAPTER V CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1 Conclusion

The finally After the researcher discuss and analyze more deeply about a Sara's characterization that acts as an important figure of the novel .as well as the influence of Sara's characterization to a friend in the novel A Little Princess. The researcher has completed the research and until the conclusion, and from the result of the previous analyze by the researcher. The conclusion that.

Sara's characterization able to show by herself as an admirable characterization the other characters. The characterization of her had not been changed in any situation, although she was a rich child and a child who afterwards became poor child although later state that is able to turn it into rich a child again, Sara characterization will never change. This is proved by the attitude of Sara wants to help Lottie that age much younger than her. As well as being a good friend to Becky though the Becky is servant, and by her attitude is always respected Miss Minchin although often she rudest to her. From all of the fact above make her friends around her are admired by the characterization of Sara.

So we could get a lesson that a good characterization in this novel will be able to make someone become admired and loved by so many good people around. The good characterization should always be keeping in all situations and in difficult situation. Because the difficult situation that will add maturity to our self. Although Sara is only a fiction we can make a model in our daily lives.

5.2 Suggestion

In the end of this chapter, the researcher would like to give some suggestions of what has been studied to reader. The researcher aware that the researcher's work is far from perfect, and there are still many mistakes. He suggests another researcher should do a study on the influence of a characterization issue another self more deeply. The researcher hopes that this thesis can be used as a reference and guide for other researchers who are interested to learn about the influence of characterization by literary approach.

Finally, the Writer also suggests to the reader after reading this thesis on the literary approach, and they have to read more and literary works of others. By doing this, in the hopping that the reader can get an understanding and many learning from various aspects of human life such as the value of a good characterization that it is difficult we find.
